Grower and Importer of English
Hardy Border Carnations

Renton, Wash.

I again extend my sincere thanks to our customers for their generous support during the past season. I am especially grateful to those of you who sent me the wonderful unsolicited testimonials. We do try to give our best in every way and it is a source of satisfaction and very encouraging to us to know that our efforts are so widely appreciated. Please remember that our plants are not cuttings, but large layers propagated from the parent plants out in the field.

The plants are therefore extra large and stocky, being guaranteed to bloom profusely the first season. Bearing flowers beyond comparison, enormous in size with strong rigid stems. All plants are true to name being winners of many trophies at the Royal Horticulture, Chelsea and other shows in England. Plants will be ready for shipping from October until the end of May. I have this season compiled a very extensive cultural treatise which not only covers growing directions but which vividly describes propagation by layering. These cultural instructions will be included with every order.

Sincerely yours,

R. H. PRATT.

APPRECIATION

Monterey, Calif., Nov. 23, 1941.

Dear Sir:

Those plants were gorgeous when I unpacked them. My neighbor said: "Why those are not single plants surely there is a bunch of plants in each package." They were not free from inspection until Tuesday evening, but looked as if just from your fields.

Very sincerely, H. W.

Portland, Oregon, Oct. 25, 1941.

Dear Sir:

I did not dream of receiving such sturdy, magnificent carnations plants as you sent me. They indicate to me that I shall have blooms of which I shall feel justly proud.

Thank you, A. D.

Douglas, Arizona, Aug. 2, 1942.

Dear Mr. Pratt:

This will acknowledge receipt of the carnation plants which you recently sent me. They were the largest, nicest, healthiest plants that I ever received from any one. Your packing method is just perfect. The plants were as fresh when I received them in Arizona as they were in your fields.

Yours very truly, P. J. N.

San Diego, Cal., Aug. 2, 1942.

Dear Sir:

I purchased a few plants from you two years ago and was greatly pleased with them as they bloomed very freely and were large sturdy plants. Your Julia Christiansen variety is beautiful beyond comparison. Please send me your new list as soon as published as I want to place my order early.

Yours truly, E. W. F.

The above are only a few of the appreciative letters we received last season. Won't you give us a trial and the opportunity of earning a similar one from you?
